CELEBRITY SECURITY

Public fascination with high profile celebrities and high net worth public figures has led to inevitable intrusions into their privacy. Paparazzi and others seek to monitor and record their movements, with many opportunists keen to sell photos to the highest bidder. Increasing cases of direct threats from stalkers, kidnappers and extortionists add to the volatile lifestyle of today's celebrities and high profile individuals.

We provide absolute discretion in the protection of celebrities from unwanted attention from obsessive fans, stalkers, paparazzi or criminal gangs. Our celebrity protection officers are specifically selected because of their specialist skill sets, including anti-stalking, behavioural assessment and situational awareness.
